THE CITY.

PERSONAL.

J. W. T. Gray, Henrietta, is in the city. Henry Ketchum of San Saba is in the city. John A. Knight and wife of Palo Pinto are at the Grand. W. H. Scarborough and S. S. Maddox of Sunset are in the city. Mrs. William Webster of Chicago is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Largo. Mrs. Volney Hall, Miss Tommie Browning and R. C. Hall of Dido, spent yesterday in the city. Mr. James L. Simmons and wife, Miss Currie Barthold and L. V. Harcourt represented Weatherford in the city yesterday. Mr. Edgar Rye of Albany arrived in the city yesterday en route to Austin, where he will remain during the session of the legislature. Mr. A. H. Latimer of Mineral Wells, representative-elect from Palo Pinto county to the legislature, was a caller on THE GAZETTE yesterday. Mrs. A. F. Lodie has gone to join her husband at Council Grove, Kans., which city they will make their future home, carrying the best wishes of many Fort Worth friends. Mr. J. N. Browning, who represents worthily and well in the Texas legislature, the biggest district in the Lone Star State, arrived in Fort Worth yesterday, and will spend a day or so in the city prior to departing to Austin.

ON THE STREET.

Miss Adelaide Moore appears to-night in Romeo and Juliet. Secure your seats in advance. Long John devoured quail No. 24 yesterday. He has only six more birds to go to finish his job. The people are thoroughly alive to the importance of a refrigerator. Now is the accepted time. Henry Early won the undying love of the police boys by paying them their last month's salary in full. The citizens of East Weatherford street are rejoiced to see some good stone crossings put down on that thoroughfare. Pygmalion and Galatea at the matinee to-morrow. At night, the Lady of Lyons, in which Miss Moore's acting is superb. Adelaide Moore in Romeo and Juliet will attract one of the largest and most cultured audiences of the season at the opera-house to-night.

The putting down of 200 feet of first-class sidewalk in front of the Huffman building on Main street is a good example that should be copied extensively.

Joe Bailey, charged with stealing a horse for which he was convicted at the last term of the district court, obtained a new trial, and yesterday was acquitted.

School was suspended at the Belknap street building yesterday because the coal had given out. It is not reported that a single youngster bewailed the occurrence.

If the working of county convicts on the public roads is a good thing, why not take the prisoners to improving the streets of Fort Worth? queried a citizen to a GAZETTE man yesterday.

A prominent politician of the Dark-Letter school was heard to say that the action of the Democratic committee in calling a convention would draw the party lines at the coming city election.

During a late fire the crank used to wind up the hose on Peter Smith hose carriage was lost, entailing considerable inconvenience to the firemen. Chief Wilkes asks the finder to bring it to the city hall.

Fort Worth has now a tannery that is meeting with good encouragement. A number of beautifully dressed Angora goat skins, samples of Fort Worth work, displayed at the Pickwick hotel yesterday, sold very rapidly.

Society Officers.

The Philomathean Society will meet this evening for the nomination of officers for the current term. All members are expected to be present. An interesting programme is being prepared for Friday evening the 14th inst.

Adelaide Moore.

Miss Adelaide Moore's gorgeous palace car which was built expressly for her, at a cost of $52,000, and is probably the finest railroad car in America, will arrive in the city this morning and will be sidetracked at the Union depot. It will be open for public inspection from 2 to 3 p. m. Invitations can be had by application at Dashwood & Oesch's drug store.

A Wire Thief Nabbed.

About the 22d of December several spools of barbed wire were stolen from the Huffman Implement Company. Yesterday the stolen spools were recovered, and a darky named Bill Bryant arrested as the thief by Officer Scott. Bryant secreted the wire at the house of an old man named Griffith, near the cemetery, who transferred it to a third party from whom it was recovered. The evidence against Bryant is said to be strong enough to almost insure a conviction.

A Colored Crook from Dallas.

Cal McCulloch, a light-fingered, though dark-hued personage, who was in the employ of a float company in Dallas, up to Saturday last, is now enjoying the luxuries of the Fort Worth refrigerator, vulgarly styled the "boose." It appears that on Saturday eve Cal belted himself to $150 of the company's money that he found lying in reach, and a few hours later he was westward. Landing in Fort Worth, he commenced to enjoy himself with the cash so easily obtained. One night of dissipation in Hell's Half-Acre must have produced a homesick feeling, however, that caused him to return to Dallas the next day. In the meantime, Mr. Ed Bryan, manager of the business, had kept a sharp lookout at the depot at Dallas, and last night his search was rewarded by seeing the thief boarding the train that was to again bring him to Fort Worth. He collared the scamp and came on with him here with the view of finding the stolen money, which a search of his person failed to reveal. Officers here know where he exhibited $350, and hope to be able to recover it.

"Consumption Can be Cured."

Dr. J. C. COMBS, Owensville, Ohio, says: "I have given SCOTT'S EMULSION of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites to four patients with better results than seemed possible with any remedy. All were hereditary cases of Lung disease, and advanced to that stage when cough, pain in the chest, frequent spitting, frequent pulse, fever and emaciation. All three cases have increased in weight from 16 to 20 pounds, and are not now needing any medicine."

Eaches Pleasures.

There was an unusually brilliant gathering of young society people at the hospitable home of Mr. J. M. Hartsfield last night. Progressive eaches was the chief enjoyment, and never was there an evening party of progressive eaches players that enjoyed themselves in heartier way. Miss Jennie Robinson and Mr. Perry Claiborne won the first prize, a box of pastetries and Poe's poems, while to Miss May Scoble and Mr. George Holland fell the booby's reward, an owl and horn.

Misses Mamie Martin, Laura Scott, Belle McCoy, and Messrs. Douglass, Higbee and Voigt, delighted the assemblage with their excellent music. Miss Blanch Hartsfield, the fair young hostess, never appeared to better advantage, and her winning and graceful manners stamped her as a peerless entertainer; and so all the company thought. A supper of dainty luxuries tastefully arranged completed the pleasures of the night.

There were present the following young ladies and gentlemen: Misses May Scoble, Mamie Martin, Jessie Strong, Julia Williams, Eula Williams, Jennie Logan, Jennie Robinson, Annie Graves, Annie Winslow, Laura Scott, Rosa Maddox, Lizzie Willing, Mary Harrington, Belle Smith, Mamie Willing, Mary Vaughn, Jessie Swayne, Fannie Beckton, Helen Dickson, Ida Wise, Belle McCoy.

Messrs. H. W. Spencer, R. H. Sellers, Robert Allen, Irvy Dunklin, Lee Freeman, Lee Whitsett, Jim Mitchell, W. B. Elliott, Morton Logan, James Douglass, G. E. Holland, Mont Kelley, J. G. Browning, Will Logan, Jim Shelton, Tom Stack, Mack Templeton, Jesse Nunnally, Perry Claiborne, Frank Capps, Luther Higby, F. G. Voigt, S. W. Lawrence, L. Bennett.

WHENCE COMES IT?

The Peculiarly Unpleasant Odor that Permeates Fort Worth.

For the last two nights a queer smell of a distinctively sulphuric character has offended the olfactory nerves of the Fort Worth folks, and a good many people are puzzled to know its origin. Some are disposed to connect it with the earthquake that shook up the good citizens of Austin and Bastrop on Wednesday. Indeed a few have been heard to avow that they felt a slight jar here, though this is probably the product of imagination. But the smell is a fact, as the nasal organs of all Fort Worthites (barring those who are bad sufferers with cold) will testify.

A GAZETTE man heard complaints on every hand. At first it was attributed to leaking gas, and the corporation that furnishes that product was the subject of vigorous talk the reverse of complimentary. But the longer the fragrance lasted the more its sulphurous quality predominated, until at last doors and windows had to be thrown wide open for relief.

It will be remembered that at the time of the great shocks at Charleston the water in one of two wells about the city got so strongly of sulphur as to be altogether unpalatable. So far nothing of the kind has been heard of this time, yet that there is an intimate connection between these phenomena is almost certain, though it is left to some scientist to trace it with exactness.

IS NANNIE A KLEPTOMANIAC?

The Remarkable Operations of a Young Woman in the Line of Stealing.

About two weeks ago Mrs. M. A. Moore, a second-hand dealer on Houston street, discharged from her service one Nannie Hillborn, who had been employed to do the family cooking. Very soon thereafter she missed a lot of silver spoons, knives and forks, clothing, and a fine necklace that belonged to her daughter. She at once suspected the Hillborn woman and related the case to Officer Rushing, who has ever since kept a watch on her. Yesterday he went to the home of a Mr. Myers, where the woman was working, and gaining access to her room, opened her trunk. It was full of stolen goods, not only household articles but jewelry of every kind—rings, buttons, lockets, and the missing necklace of Miss Moore.

Some silverware belonging to Mr. Charles Scheuber, in whose family she had served, was also found, also some property of a Mrs. Daniel. It appears that everywhere the woman had worked she had stolen whatever was in reach, and her trunk contained a miscellaneous assortment of things thus acquired. Mrs. Moore went before the grand jury and swore to the facts, as did a number of other witnesses, but the jury came to the conclusion that Nannie was not balanced in mind and she was accordingly turned out of jail.

THE REFRIGERATOR.

Should Not Fort Worth Set Our Works in Operation?

As is well known, a number of cities of the state are taking active measures looking to the establishment of refrigerators. Fort Worth has a plant equal to any in the country, but it does not necessarily follow that other cities will not build and operate refrigerators because we have one here. Our people should move in this matter and secure the benefits to accrue from the possession of what we have. The following shows what a neighboring city is doing. It is taken from the Dallas News of yesterday:

"The local stockmen met at the American National bank yesterday afternoon for the purpose of arranging for the State Live Stock Association, which will meet in Dallas on the 11th inst. Col. John N. Simpson, president of the association, stated that the chief object of the meeting was to see what could be done toward consolidating the cattlemen of North and West Texas on Dallas as the location of one of the refrigerating establishments. It having been admitted that the necessities of the state demand two such establishments, one in the south and the other in the north, and that there would be no pull between North and South Texas in the matter. The question was how to proceed to get the advantages, which Dallas has over all other towns for the location of a refrigerator, set forth before the convention. Dallas county can feed more cattle than any other county in the state, and is easy of access by rail from all parts of the state, and besides, it is admitting the largest city in the state. The meeting was agreed to the location of the cattle business of the state depends upon the building of refrigerators and the establishment of a home market, and the city which secures the location of these will grow. Chicago, Kansas City and other places were cited to show with what certainty wealth and population coun-trate around large cattle markets, and the query as to what advantage Kansas City possesses over Dallas, elicited the response, none, except in the matter of having the start. The objection that a Texas refrigerator cannot compete with similar establishments in the East, from the fact that the latter find a ready market for all parts of the beef, even to the hoofs, horns, brain, blood, offal, etc., and many choice mess parts, which there being fancy prices, which would have to be thrown away here for want of a market—was met by the assertion that the objection was not well taken; that all parts of the beef can be just as well utilized and realized upon here as elsewhere. The meeting concluded to approach the business men of Dallas with a plain business proposition, and ask them what they will give to have the North Texas beef market established here, and to prepare a paper forcibly setting forth the advantages of Dallas for the location of the market, to be read before the State Live Stock Association, and also setting forth, for the people at large, the advantages which refrigerated beef has over other beef for the markets of the country. The meeting adjourned to come together again, perhaps to-day, to get matters in better working order.

WILL NOMINATE.

The Executive Committee Decides on Holding a Convention to Nominate City Officers.

There was a meeting of the Democratic executive committee at Chairman Carter's office yesterday. Beside the committee men nearly all the candidates for municipal offices were present, besides a number of prominent Democrats. Mr. A. M. Carter presided and John T. Ginocchio, Esq., took the place of the regular secretary, Mr. Drew Pruitt, owing to the latter's candidacy for the city attorneyship.

The object of the meeting was to settle the question of holding a convention to nominate candidates for city offices. There seemed to be but one opinion on the subject. Every one present favored the convention, and on motion of Mr. O. S. Kennedy it was agreed that one be called. Chairman Carter suggested that it was best to defer the time of holding it as long as possible, and in accordance with his suggestion the 7th of March was fixed on as the day. It was further agreed that the primaries should be held in the various wards at 8 o'clock p. m., on March 5, at which time delegates should be elected to attend the convention. The basis of representation agreed on—one for every 25 votes, and 25 delegates to the first ward, 20 to the second, 16 to the third and 12 to the fourth, a total of 78 votes. It was considered proper to let each ward elect for itself as to the preference of its voters for alderman.

A committee of five will shortly be appointed whose duty it will be to indicate the manner in which the primaries will be held as regards the participants therein.

Weather Probabilities.

There is a depressed feeling in regard to our wheat crop. Bo of good cheer, friends, there is a rain period the 4th to the 6th of January. Another about the 15th to 16th. Toward the last of January, 27th, there is a strong period. Indeed, the indications for the whole month of February are first rate. Quite near all the rains that fall, fall at the time mentioned by us. It rains then or not at all. The severe cold at this writing will moderate into warm weather from day to day as the next period approaches.
